DEKALB COUNTY WOMAN WANTED FOR INSURANCE FRAUD

ATLANTA – Insurance and Safety Fire Commissioner John F. King announced today that Yvette Williams, 34, of Lorris, has been charged with insurance fraud.

In July of 2021, Ms. Williams filed an insurance claim stating that her vehicle was stolen. The insurance company then reached out to our Criminal Investigations Division with suspicion that the claim was fraudulent.

“Our investigators determined that Ms. Williams’ vehicle was not stolen, but in fact had been towed months prior to the claim,” said Commissioner King. “The vehicle remained at the location for several months before it was retrieved. I am proud of the work our special agents have done to close this case.”

Warrants were taken out against Ms. Williams in Dekalb County on September 7th for one count of Insurance Fraud. She is still wanted at this time.
